LOCAL NEWS.

A black bear weighing 150 pounds, was on exhibition at the Oakland Hotel, Narrowsburg, last week. It was killed by Benjamin Dextheimer, of Swamp Mills, N. Y., who was acting as guide for a party of deer hunters.

State Zoologist Surface will make a number of addresses in various counties this week. This being the season of the year when the tree pruners are at work and when spraying for insect pests should be done, he will lecture on the best methods.

The Adams House, Knoxville, Pa., owned by Mrs. Adams, formerly of Oregon township, this county, was considerably damaged by fire on Thursday morning, Oct. 23. The kitchen floor was ignited by a gas jet carelessly left burning in the cellar.

Miss Lottie Ellis and her Mandolin Club, of Carbondale, entertained the people of Waymart last Saturday evening with a concert given for the benefit of the Methodist church of that borough. The club comprises twenty-one members, all whom were guests at a supper given in recognition of their services, before they went back over the mountain.

Theodore LaBar, of Starucca, has brought suit against Susquehanna borough, claiming $5,000 for injuries alleged to have been received through a fall from an unguarded sidewalk in that place in 1906. He charges that while passing by a vacant lot, he stepped from the walk, which was without railing, and fell several feet, injuring himself severely and permanently. The case will be tried in November.

A few days since Dr. John M. Plant, of Syracuse, in speaking of the misbehavior of children in schools, at an educational conference, said that "defective teeth and breathing apparatus form a dangerous ally to criminal tendencies" and that "the amount of cussedness produced among young persons by toothache is almost incalculable." Which reminded the writer of the soothing words of his "Uncle John" when he was a lad and howling with a "jumper." "Nasty pain; nasty pain. No wonder dogs go mad!"

Ariel is having an industrial boom from all accounts. A new knitting mill, financed mainly by Scrantonians, with C. Hebbard, formerly of Hawley, as foreman, and employing a number of girls, is turning out underwear which finds a ready New York market; a large creamery and ice house are being built by the Alexander Campbell Milk Co., of Brooklyn—a branch of the Borden system; a concrete building is being erected in which an Italian cheese factory will be installed by Santori and Lombardi; a new coal washery has been started on the Horace L. Butler property at No. 12, and the trade in apples promises to reach a record volume this fall. Good for Ariel!

Shortly after noon on Saturday last, Mrs. Charles A. Knapp, of Madison, N. J., who, with her husband, is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. M. Decker, corner of Court and 11th streets, met with a sad mishap. Mrs. Knapp, who is a heavy lady, considerably advanced in age, and somewhat crippled by a former accident, was in the act of descending the stairs at Mrs. Decker's when the misfortune occurred. Reaching next to the bottom step, and supposing herself to be on the last one, she stepped off and fell to the hallway floor. Being unable to rise, it was at once seen that she was seriously injured, and an examination by Drs. Searle and Powell, who were promptly called, confirmed the fear that she had fractured the right thigh bone at the hip, a misfortune which not infrequently befalls elderly people. The bone was at once set and the patient made as comfortable as possible, but it is feared that she will be housed for a long time.

—We are obliged to leave correspondence from Mapewood, Steene, Sterling, Dreher, Bethany, and Carley Brook over for insertion in Friday's issue.

—As a further protection against fire, the doors and windows on the south side of the Lyric theatre have been provided with iron shutters.

—Martin Connor, of Carbondale, has purchased of the Del. & Hud. Co., the car "Passaic," formerly in use on the Gravity, and is fitting it up as a restaurant.

—The various Improvement Associations in Texas township, adjacent to the borough, are endeavoring to secure sufficient means to light the main thoroughfares of their respective districts.

—The next session of the Wayne Co. Teachers' Institute will be held in the Court House, for one week, commencing Monday, Nov. 9th. An able corps of instructors has been secured.

—Rev. Dr. A. J. Van Cleft, of Binghamton, but formerly of Honesdale, who had his pocket picked a few days ago, losing $30 in cash, besides some checks and valuable papers, has had the pocket book returned to him at Binghamton, minus the cash.

—Samuel Phillips, of Stroudsburg, who has reached the ripe age of 80 years, took his first trip by train on Saturday, when he came up to Hawley to visit his brother Lewis Phillips, of that borough. He enjoyed the journey, but claimed that he was too busy with his truck patch to waste much time running around.

—While at work painting in Dunkelberg's meat market, early in the week, John Gerry was thrown to the floor by the breaking of the step-ladder upon which he was standing, and sustained a painful injury to one of his feet, one or two of the metatarsal bones being splintered. He is getting along comfortably, and hopes to be out in a few days.

An inspecting party comprising State Highway Commissioner, S. W. Hunter, of Harrisburg; State Engineer, Arthur W. Long, of Scranton; Wayne County Commissioners, Thomas C. Madden, J. K. Hornbeck and John E. Mandeville; Supervisor, George Scheitler; State Inspector S. H. Rhodes and contractor, W. L. Harvey, examined a seven mile section of the proposed through State road in the lower part of this county on Friday last. The highway inspected extends three miles east and four miles west of Gouldsboro, and was at once accepted as a splendid sample of work, in fact, according to the views of the inspecting party, the finest piece of road in the State. Work on the road was started in April of last year and was continued for seven months, when unfavorable weather ended operations. They were resumed May 1, of this year and have just been completed. The party dined at the St. Charles Hotel, Gouldsboro, after making their tour of inspection.

Commissioners Hornbeck, Madden and Mandeville were in Forest City last night arranging for the erection of a much needed bridge at that place. Two of the commissioners of Susquehanna and representatives of the Erie railroad and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company were present and all parties came to an agreement. The two counties are to construct the bridge over the Lackawanna creek and build abutments on each side of the Erie tracks for an overhead bridge, which the Erie company will construct and maintain; and the Hillside Coal and Iron Company will make the fill across the culm dump. All parties are to meet again Nov. 10th to sign agreement. The Wayne county commissioners appropriated $75 for the construction of a temporary bridge, which C. H. Wilmarth will erect at once. The old bridge was demolished by the ice last spring. This action by the Wayne commissioners will be a great accommodation to people of Clinton, Mt. Pleasant, Preston and Dyberry, who market in Forest City.

They are two of Girdland's most promising young people, and all join in wishing them a bright and happy future.

The marriage of Miss Mary Soete to Edward Murtha, both of Honesdale, will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 4th.

WARNING.

We have been informed that the next issue of a Wayne county paper will contain a specially manufactured article in which an attempt will be made to damage the reputation of a Republican candidate by wrongfully accusing him of doing what his opponent has done all his life. Better not. Wayne county voters are not fools.

OBITUARY.

Henry Croft, of South Sterling, died in a Scranton hospital, Oct. 18, 1908, of blood poisoning, aged 51 years. He leaves a wife. Rev. J. M. Smeltzer, of Gouldsboro, conducted the funeral services.

Mrs. Mary Higgins, an old and highly respected resident of Clinton township, died at her home on Sunday morning last, aged 73 years. She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Mrs. C. A. Gibbs, of Independence, Kansas; A. H. Eagan, of Kansas City, Mo.; J. P. Higgins, of St. Louis, Mo.; Thomas and Catharine Higgins, of Clinton; one sister, Mrs. Joseph Messitt, of Carbondale. The funeral will be held this afternoon, with interment in St. Rose cemetery, Carbondale, of which city she was formerly a resident.

Warren D. Keen died of Bright's disease, October 24, 1908, in Prompton, in his 72d year. He was born in or near Prompton. During the civil war he served in the U. S. navy from Aug. 21, 1861, to Aug. 29, 1864. He was on the U. S. S. Minnesota, during its memorable fight with the noted Confederate iron-clad Merrimack, in March, 1862. For his services he received a pension of $20 per month. He leaves no near relatives, his wife having died in 1890, and his two married daughters a few years ago. Interment in the Prompton cemetery.

David Griffin, for many years a resident of Honesdale, was found dead in his bed, at his home on Spring street, last Saturday morning, death being caused by a stroke of paralysis. He was born in Lackawanna county, in what is now Scranton, June 12, 1824, making his age 84 years and 4 months. Deceased was for a number of years an employee of the Del. and Hud. Co., in Honesdale. Since the death of his wife he had lived alone, getting his own meals. His wife died here in 1882. He is survived by a son Wallace, of Port Jervis, and a widowed daughter, Mrs. George Baldorf, of Walldwick, N. J. Interment in Glen Dyberry.

After battling with an affection of the lungs for a number of years, two of the last winters having been spent in Arizona and the south in the hope of relief, John H. Smith passed away at his residence on Church street on Saturday afternoon last. For several months he had been confined to his room and mainly to his bed, fully realizing his condition and patiently awaiting the inevitable. He was a man of courteous disposition and gentlemanly bearing, and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his decease and sympathize with his stricken family. Mr. Smith was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith, of Court street, and was born in Honesdale in 1864. Educated in our public schools, he learned the trade of glass cutting, becoming very proficient and eventually being made foreman of the T. B. Clark factory, which position he filled acceptably for three years. In 1898 he engaged in the same business for himself in company with John E. Krantz, the firm of Krantz, Smith & Co. becoming one of the leading cut-glass concerns and occupying one of the most commodious factories in Honesdale, employing usually 150 hands. Mr. Smith, besides his wife and four children, is survived by his father and mother and four sisters. The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in Grace Episcopal church, in the choir of which the rich tenor voice of Mr. Smith was for many years heard and appreciated. Rev. A. L. Whittaker, rector of the church, officiated.

Only Way To Use State's Surplus.

Mr. Editor: In Smull's Hand Book for 1908, on pages 807 and 808, the official total receipts of the state treasury are given for the year ending Dec. 1st, 1907, as $27,027,132.72. This is the official record. In the same book on page 815 is given the total cost of schools which is stated at $31,067,304.61. Of this amount $16,945,995.51 is for teachers' wages and text books (the two items we want the state to pay)—the balance, $14,111,309.13, being the cost of buildings, renting, fees of collectors, fuel, janitors, school supplies.

We have not proposed to touch the direction of the schools or interfere with directors in building or management, our purpose being to give tax relief in the only way that the state's great surplus and increasing revenues can reach all the people.

Our bill provides for the payment of these sums to the school directors or boards of education, the first week in Aug. before the opening of the schools, thus obviating any necessity of borrowing by directors or delay in paying teachers.

Treasurer Sheatz has exceeded all records in paying, hence the present surplus has been cut down a little, but it is now over $10,000,000 and will increase rapidly as no further school payments will be due under present rulings till June next, and then will be two or three months in being paid.

These statements are all official. There is much more that could be said but rest our case on official figures.

Very truly yours,

W. E. PERHAM.

School Taxes.

Mr. Furth should not be blamed for the many misstatements made in the long article on Schools which he signed and which appears in the Herald. His short acquaintance with the article, which he merely carried from the author to the Herald office did not give him time to peruse it carefully. His mind is occupied with a more important question and one in which schools are not to be considered. Christy Rabbitt should not be blamed for the article as he has been placed in jail, and his vote will be lost to his friends. The groggy condition of the figures used in this article are due to the fact that they have been working overtime in the local option fight, and if they convey a wrong impression it is due to the fact that the men who are using them have a very severe attack of heartache over what other people will pay in taxes, if they are compelled to take their stimulants on the sly.

A vote for M. E. Simons can be registered in this way and it will help elect a man who is capable in every way to fill the position.

Local Option.

MY DEAR MR. EDITOR: Will you permit me to add a note to my letter of the 23rd? The second reason (?) given by the "Business Men's Anti Local Option League" why we should oppose local option is this:—Should the revenue from liquor licenses be cut off, the tax will fall on the farmers and property owners of the county. "The State will have no money to pay to schools, hospitals or charitable institutions, only such as they receive from a direct tax." One would infer from the above that the liquor men pay all our State taxes. Let us see:

Total State Revenue for fiscal year 1907 -	$27,027,132.72
STATE REVENUE FROM LIQUORS:
1.—Wholesale liquor licenses -	$731,974.59
2.—Retail liquor licenses -	648,836.35
3.—Brewers' licenses -	331,828.25
4.—Distillers' licenses -	70,427.80
5.—Bottlers' licenses -	91,744.92
Total -	$1,874,801.91

Revenue from liquors a fraction less than seven per cent. of total revenue; or about one dollar in fourteen.

The gentleman who kindly called my attention to this showing, adds: "Assuming the same percentage of truth in all the other statements and predictions by the Liquor League, the damage to be wrought by prohibition shrinks to very small dimensions."
